flag's presence, which she explained makes her feel uncomfortable.

"Where is the flag for women?" Marlene asked. "For children?"

"I have been threatened on Twitter by transactivists with rape and death – so it is daunting to go for medical treatment with that banner proclaiming that what I am – an adult human female (calling myself that now is hateful per OHSU), a woman, is a mere opt-in category for any gender nonconforming male and not a reality itself – this negates women completely."

Marlene would go on in the correspondence to explain why she is offended and feels unsafe getting treatment with the transgender flag on display because what it represents is the erasure of real women through the cancelation of women-only spaces like sports teams and locker rooms.

Rather than respect the fact that not everyone feels comfortable having a massive transgender flag on display, which Marlene described as an "enormous transgenderism banner hanging like a Nazi flag behind the reception desk," the staff at OHSU instead proceeded to axe her as a patient.

"Dear Marlene," the response letter from OHSU stated. "This letter is to inform you that effective immediately you are discharged from receiving medical care at the Richmond Family Medicine Clinic. This action is being taken because of ongoing disrespectful and hurtful remarks about our LGBTQ community and staff."

"The provider staff at the Richmond Clinic will continue to provide for your urgent health care needs until 7/29/2023 ... Please note that you are also now dismissed from all OHSU Family Medicine Clinics, including Immediate Care."

As mentioned above, OHSU is the same entity where Dr. Peters, the self-proclaimed "queer surgeon," works. He has loudly and proudly proclaimed online that he has mutilated many children's bodies, and takes pride in the fact that many more children's bodies will continue to come his way for "treatment."

Marlene revealed to the independent media that she was told by OHSU staff to seek "re-education" in order to change her views. In other words, the position of OHSU is that anyone who disagrees

"Expect to hear a lot more of these stories in the future," warns RedState. "While most Americans remain grounded in reality when it comes to the truth about transgender ideology, the vast majority of institutions within the country are militantly defensive of it."

"That includes the medical establishment, which has led the way in denying science to affirm mental illness at the expense of others, especially women."

A yet another Nazi American Terrorist Organization. Mercenaries funded by the west. And their are not paid to share flowers and spread happiness and joy. If you see that flag, beware, your life may be in serious danger.
